ABSTRACT

The collaborative efforts of the Council of Chief State School Officers and the North Central Regional Educational Laboratory have resulted in the State Student Assessment Program (SSAP) database. Information is collected annually about student assessment programs in each state, both in the area of traditional testing and in nontraditional assessment. Each state is also asked to divide its assessments into components and explain the uses of each. These two diskettes, available for Windows or Macintosh, contain a book listing the 1994-95 data tables from the SSAP survey. (SLD)
